ONE COPY—ONE CENT.

HAMMERS MAYSVILLE KNOCKERS.
Here! you discontented knocker,
Growlin' 'bout the city's ills;
Chloroform yer dismal talker,
Take a course o' liver pills!
Stop yer durn ki-o-tee howlin',
Chaw some sand and git some grit.
Don't set in the dumps a-growlin',
Jump the roost
An' boost
A bit!

Fall in while the band's a-playin', Ketch the step an' march along—
Stead o' pessimistic brayin', Jine the halleyujah song!
Drop your hammer—do some rootin'—
Grab a horn, you cuss, and split
Every echo with your tootin'—
Jump the roost
An' boost
A bit!

If you have an item of news, please call up The Ledger, Telephone 33, and let us have it.

See the new Fish Market opened up on arket street.

The C. and O. pay car passed East over this vision yesterday.

irect from the ocean at the Maysville Fish arket.

Mr. John Duley, who was taken yesterday to Kirk's Springs, in Lewis county, stood the rip very well.

Aberdeen Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, will entertain at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
ohn Whitehurst of Ellsberry tonight.

Tuesday night the Beechwood Park billboard was stolen from J. J. Wood & Son's corner.
It's a low down fellow who would be guilty of such a mean trick.

The eclipse of the moon was plainly visible last night, notwithstanding the sky was flicked with clouds. About one-fourth of the moon's surface was obscured and the transition lasted until about 10 o'clock.

Squire John Ryan has just completed the foundation for a brick dwelling on the farm of Mr. Louis Joerger on the Fleming pike. D. D.
Baldwin has the contract and Ulysses Grant
Bailey will do the brick work.

Mr. Dunbar Thomas, whose enlistment in the Army has recently expired, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Joseph F. Martin of East Fourth street. Mr. Thomas has been stationed for some time at Fort Bay and New Mexico.

Mr. W. W. Thompson, who has been in the employ of Thomas J. Chenoweth, Druggist, for the past five years, successfully passed the examination of the Kentucky Board of Pharmacy at a recent meeting held at Dawson Springs, Kentucky.

The venerable Mrs. Eliza Geis, who resides in Sixth street, was very much taken aback when on opening the window shutters at her home Tuesday a big black snake over a yard long dropped onto the floor and scampered away before the affrighted woman had recovered from the shock. His snakeship had evidently taken refuge on the window sill during the storm a short time previous.

ful song, "Without a Wedding Ring."

ANOTHER STORM

Much Wind and Rain Yesterday Noon In This Section

The wind and rain storm yesterday afternoon was of short duration, but while it lasted it was a corker.

The wind played havoc with young trees and other damage.

The smoke stack at the Maysville Foundry is partly blown down; a large glass in the window over the door at Mitchell, Finch's Bank is broken and a large plate glass 34x52 in the front door at the residence of the Misses McCollough in East Third street was shattered in a thousand pieces.

A straw stack on the Bannon farm in the county was struck by lightning and burned.

A wire in Second street gave a pretty electrical display and at the car barn a full three ring circus was on exhibition.

It is said a bolt of the electric fluid struck and burned out the telephone box, rebounding and passing between Beecher Holiday and another gentleman, passed through the door and exploded in the middle of the street.

WERNZING IN BAD

Seven Charges Against Saloonist Who is Known at Dover

Cincinnati Times-Star.

Andrew Wernzing, the saloonist of Park and Second streets, whose place was raided by Detectives Bell, Shaefer, Burkholz and McQuesten and wagonloads of plunder found, was arraigned in Police Court Tuesday and his case continued to July 30th.

As he stepped from the Courtroom he was placed under arrest on two new charges of burglary and receiving stolen goods.

This makes seven charges that are pending against him.

Wernzing is well-known in this county, he having married Miss Belle Pearce of Dover.

Mr. John W. Boulden attended a reunion of Company C, Ninth Kentucky Cavalry, C. S. A., held Tuesday at the home of Mr. Charles H.
Meng, near North Middletown, Bourbon county, at which seventeen of the surviving forty-three members of that noted Company were present.

The present freight rate from Maysville to Carlisle, a distance of thirty miles, is about $1.40 and the rate from Jellico, a distance of something over one hundred miles, is about $1.30. At the instance of Colonel H. B. Bryson, the Railroad Commissioner has reported that he will investigate and see if there is any discrimination being made. If rates are adjusted Carlisle will receive coal much cheaper.

THE assassination of a wealthy New York merchant in broad daylight rivals the killings in Bloody Breathitt and sounds real home-like.

NO MAN in the United States is today doing more to injure the Negro than Senator FORAKER of Ohio. He is preaching a different doctrine from BOOKER WASHINGTON. He is urging the Negroes to disregard the advice of the eminent Negro educator relative to industrial pursuits and to devote themselves to politics.—Louisville Post.

A RECENT dispatch from Washington states that President ROOSEVELT has his eye on a seat in the United States Senate. If ROOSEVELT should be elected to the Senate the Capitol would have to be enlarged to hold the throngs that would clamor to hear him debate with TILLMAN, FORAKER, ALDRICH et als. It would well be worth going a thousand miles to witness the fun—if ROOSEVELT was in the Senate.

THE acme of civil service absurdity has been reached by the Government when the Commission put scissors grinders on the classified list. The examination will be held next week at Washington. This monkey business has about reached the limit and it is to be hoped that the fool killer will visit some of the Washington Departments and begin a healthy crusade with a stuffed club. It is a senseless waste of time and money which we sacrifice to civil service red tape.

THE Louisville Fusionists are the best law and order league Kentucky has ever had. We ought to have one in every county in the state.

THE Louisville Herald thus tersely tells the whole story and sums up the entire situation: "HARGIS is free. It is only Kentucky that remains in bondage."

BOURKE COCKRAN believes it is impossible to tame the octopus because BOURKE knows that the octopuses have gotta de mon, and that's what counts.

THE Kaiser has prohibited the teaching of the French language in the schools of Germany. The Emperor's hatred of France only equals the hate of France for Germany.

MURDER, arson and the prostitution of justice to the base uses of the party in power is the shameful story heralded to the world from Old Kentucky. Hargis Judges and Juries and night raiders terrifying the farmers not in league with them, whitecapping and brutally beating respectable men and threatening the women and children. Think of it, too—thirty tobacco barns have been burned in Barren and surrounding counties during the present year, and nearly all of them were fired by "night raiders." The Frankfort machine is too busy arranging things for the election to pay its legal respects to the Hargis gang or the "barn burners of Barren."

LINCOLN GUESSED RIGHT.

In the "Lincoln Story Book" are numerous anecdotes that reflect all phases of the man's character. Here is one of the anecdotes of the iron hand in the velvet glove: "Mr. President"—Secretary Stanton speaking—"I cannot carry out that order! It is improper, and I don't believe it is right."
"Well, I reckon, Mr. Secretary"—very gently—"that you will hev to carry it out."
"But I won't do it. It's all wrong!"
"I guess you will hev to do it!"
He guessed right the first time.

MAKING DIFFICULTIES

"I love to sit here by the fire with you," he began. "It—It's fine!"
"Yes," agreed the young woman with a last grasp at perverseness. "It ought to be! You can't imagine the dreadful sums father pays for his hickory logs!"
"I didn't mean that!" expostulated the young man. I meant it was fine to be sitting here with you, you know!"
"Oh!" said the young woman non-committally.

The young man crossed one knee over the other and frowned slightly. It seemed hard to get started. "Yes, I like to sit here with you," he repeated desperately. "It wouldn't be in the least romantic if we were sitting beside a register or radiator, would it?"
"Why should it be?" queried the young woman in what appeared to be innocent wonder. If she was cornered at last she at least was going to enjoy watching him struggle.

"Isn't It Dreadful?"

The young man put his other foot on the floor and crossed the other knee. He coughed to gain time. "Why, if you don't know I don't!" he said, with a strained laugh. "Maybe you don't feel about it as I do!"

The pretty young woman gazed at him in concern, which would have deceived a wiser person than himself. "But I haven't the remotest idea how you feel," she said. "You seem well. Still, the cough does seem to trouble you."

The young man coughed again in sheer exasperation. "I never was better in my life," he said shortly. "What I mean is—what I am, trying to say—"

"Isn't it dreadful," sympathized the young woman, "to know what one wants to say and not be able to find the right word! I do that so often myself. It always comes to me later on though—does it with you?"

The young man looked angry. "We've known each other nearly a year, haven't we?" he began with nervous ease. "It—it seems longer."

The young woman sighed. "I'm sorry that knowing me has bored you so," she murmured, regretfully. "If only I had guessed it—still, you didn't have to come here unless you wanted to, did you? Why?"

"I did—it hasn't!" indignantly ejaculated the young man. "I must be very stupid this evening, Cora. Somehow I can't manage to express my meaning at all. What I am trying to get at is to ask whether you like me or not. Sometimes I don't believe it would make any difference to you if I never came near you again."

"You hurt my feelings dreadfully when you talk that way, Jimmie," said the young woman. "And I thought we were such good friends! My goodness, of course I like you! Really, I'm quite fond of you. Why, I shouldn't waste time talking to you if you bored me. I count you and Allison and Tom and Howard as the cleverest crowd of—"

The young man groaned with bitterness. "That's just it!" he said. "I don't want to be bunched! That's what I object to. You class me in with those fellows and—"

"I am sure," said the young woman with dignity while she smothered a laugh in her handkerchief, "that you ought to be very glad to be classed with them. They are perfectly splendid. I never before thought you were as conceited as that."

The young man looked miserable enough to melt a harder heart than hers. "Of course they are splendid," he said hastily. "That wasn't what I meant. I only wish I could come up to them instead of feeling superior, as you seem to think I do."

"Oh," said the young woman. "I seem to misunderstand you, don't I?"
"I should say you did!" said the young man violently. He swallowed hard. "Now, see here, Cora," he went on, "speaking of understanding, do you understand that for the last half hour I've been trying to ask you to marry me?"

The dimples spread over her face, and for the first time the young woman looked fairly at him.

"Jimmie," she said in a last burst of sarcasm, which failed to touch the young man, "how could I ever have dreamed of such a thing? But now you've started, go on and finish!"—Chicago Daily News.

CARBOLIC ACID

Causes Death of Clifton Greenwood at Knoxville, Tennessee

THE LEDGER a few days since made mention of the death of Clifton Greenwood at his home at Knoxville, Tenn.

A recent issue of a paper at that place contains the following—

Clifton Greenwood, the fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greenwood, living at 234 Leonard street, in North Knoxville, accidentally took carbolic acid yesterday afternoon, which resulted in almost instant death.

The accident occurred about five o'clock. The young boy was not feeling well, and going to the medicine chest to take something from another bottle procured the wrong phial. The dose swallowed was quite a large one, and although several physicians were called in, death followed within thirty minutes.

Young Greenwood was in Maysville, Ky. He came to this city in 1894 when the rest of the family moved to Knoxville, and was in school up to the close of the last session.

Mr. Warren Baldwin will have charge of the service at the Christian Church Sunday morning.

An actual reduction of 246 saloons in Ohio in one year is shown by the June Aikin tax collections.

Mr. C. O. Jaynes, Agent at South Ripley, is at the C. and O. Hospital at Clifton Forge, where he will be operated on this week.

STATE COLLEGE of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky.

The State College of Kentucky offers the following courses, viz: Agricultural, Mechanical, Engineering, Civil Engineering, Mining Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Normal School, Classical and seven scientific courses, each of which extends over four years and leads to the Bachelor's degree. Each course is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty, consisting of Professors, Assistant Professors and Instructors, numbers over fifty.

County appointees receive free tuition, privilege of residence in dormitories, fuel and lights and traveling expenses if they remain ten consecutive months or one collegiate year.

The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern. Military science is fully provided for as required by Congress.

Graduates in the several courses of study readily find employment with liberal remuneration. The total number of matriculates last year was 901. Each department has a specialist at its head, with the necessary number of assistants.

Summer schools are provided for in pedagogy, engineering and instruction in science and the liberal arts.

The young women find an excellent home, with board and lodging, in Patterson Hall, which is well equipped with all modern conveniences, bath rooms, hall for physical culture, at $3 per week. All the courses of study in the College are open to young women upon identical conditions with those applying to males.

The attendance upon the Normal School in connection with the Department of Education last year more than doubled that of any preceding year. Three new buildings, namely, one for the Department of Education, one for Agricultural Science and a Library Hall, are in process of erection and will be completed early in the next collegiate year.

For catalogues, methods of obtaining appointments, information regarding courses of study and terms of admission, apply to JAMES K. PATTERSON, P.H.D., LL.D., President.

Or to D. C. Frazee, Business Agent, Lexington, Ky. Fall term begins September 12th, 1907. 20 51

Liquid Delight.

Every one seems agreed that for every quality that goes to make soda water good our Soda Water is pre-eminent. It is not only good, but the most delightfully perfect Soda. A cold draught of such deliciousness that you would not exchange it for the fabled nectar.

It's so different from soda water as commonly served as to seem another beverage, yet it costs just the same as you have paid for the insipid kind.

PROF. HARDIN LUCAS

Passenger on the Steamer Columbia Which Sank in Pacific Ocean

A telegram was received Tuesday at Paris that Professor William Hardin Lucas was aboard the steamship Columbia which was sunk Sunday night in the Pacific Ocean in a collision while en route from San Francisco, Cal., to Portland, Oregon.

The telegram was from Burrell G. White of San Francisco and was addressed to the "Lucas family, Paris, Ky."

The message stated that Professor Lucas's fate was unknown, but a telegram received later from reliable sources stated that Prof. Lucas was among those saved.

Prof. Lucas, who is Principal of the Public Schools of Seattle, Washington, had been at Los Angeles, Cal., in attendance upon a meeting of teachers and it was not known whether or not he was accompanied by his wife, nee Miss Abbie Osborne of this county.

Professor Lucas was a graduate of Kentucky University and formerly was Principal of the Paris High School, going West several years ago.

The freight and passenger steamer Ruth, plying between Wheeling and New Matamoros, Ohio, was caught in a severe storm just below Moundsville Monday evening and nearly wrecked. Her stage was blown upon the hurricane roof, breaking her boom and gaff, and both of her chimneys were blown off and lost in the river. Other parts of the packet were badly damaged and she was almost totally disabled, in so much that she was compelled to float on down the river. She will go on the docks at Marietta for repairs.

TWICE-TOLD TESTIMONY.

Maysville People Are Doing All They Can for Fellow Sufferers.

Maysville testimony has been published to prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills to others in Maysville who suffer from bad backs and kidney ills. Let any sufferer doubt that the cures made by Doan's Kidney Pills are thorough and lasting, we produce confirmed proof—statements from Maysville people saying that the cures they told of years ago were permanent. Here's a Maysville case:

Henry Bertram, shoemaker, of 27 East Third street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"I believe everybody in Maysville has read in the papers the testimony I gave in March, 1900, about Doan's Kidney Pills, for I have been asked again and again by residents of this town if that statement were true. For the benefit of persons who may now be suffering from forms of kidney trouble I repeat my testimony. Before I got Doan's Kidney Pills I had suffered for some time with backache and a tired feeling and having aching in and about the kidneys. Being a shoemaker, I thought my trouble was caused by my work for every time I took cold I settled in my back. Doan's Kidney Pills quickly rid me of the trouble and never, from that time to this, have I had any cause to complain of my back or kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills perform exactly what they promise, and I will say that in my opinion there is no remedy for kidney disorders equal to Doan's Kidney Pills."

READ THIS AND PROFIT THEREBY!

This is a trying time of the year. Any discomforts arise from the heat, the best way to be comfortable is by bathing often, at least twice daily, and using a liberal quantity of talcum powder. By bathing often one keeps the skin clean and the pores open, thereby allowing the entire body to breathe freely, which means perfect health. The best soap to use for the bath and toilet is Picard's Complexion Soap, non-injurious, healthful soap. Talcum powder keeps the skin cool, lays heat rash, stops chaffing and is an excellent toilet requisite. We have a number of kinds.

TELEPHONE MEETING

Hello Men In Session at Central Hotel Yesterday

A meeting of the members of the Second District of Kentucky State Independent Telephone Association was held in this city yesterday.

Among the number were A. J. Stein and R. L. Rowland, Vanceburg; W. R. Fee, Portsmouth; O. M. F. Hoses and H. S. Towler, Paris; C. B. Crawford, Lawrenceburg, Ind.; M. S. Taylor, Lexington; O. R. Bright, Flemingsburg, and Dr. Edwin Matthews of this city.

After routine business and interchange of commonplace matters the meeting was adjourned.

journed to the dining-room of the New Central Hotel, where the telephone folks and invited guests sat down to a sumptuous dinner.

After satisfying the wants of the inner man of the good things spread before them, a number of the party left for Ironton, O., to inspect the new automatic Independent Exchange at that place.

The next meeting will be held in Lexington the latter part of October.

THE LAW AND THE OCTOPUS

The Strong Arm of Justice is Reaching Out After Railway Outlaws

Lexington Gazette.

North Carolina has joined in the octopus hunt. An effort is being made in that state to enforce the recently enacted anti-trust laws providing for a two-cent a-mile passenger rate. A ticket agent at Asheville was arraigned in the Police Court and found guilty of selling tickets at a higher price than the law provides. He was sentenced to thirty days in the chain gang.

If this action is legal it will be an easy matter for the two-cent law to be enforced, and to establish such a precedent will probably open the way for effective enforcement of various anti-trust laws. The action in North Carolina is a novel procedure, the final result of which will be watched with interest.

SENSATIONAL EVANGELISM

Not in Favor With Modern Methodism—Bishop Vincent Against Emotional Religion

Bishop John H. Vincent, head of the Methodist Church in Kansas, has attacked sensational methods used in evangelistic work by his and other sects.

Bishop Vincent says that revivals where large numbers of converts are received under the influence of powerful feeling engendered by impassioned oratory, are not permanent forces for good.

He declared at the Kansas Chautauqua that he believed in genuine evangelistic effort under discreet direction, but decries spasmodic and emotional conversions, which he calls mere temporary devices and makeshifts.

He criticised testimony meetings in revival services and stated that the people generally were more interested in the word of God than in personal narrations concerning its effect.

Cartmel extracts teeth without pain

If the increase in food prices continue, the menu at the next Jefferson dollar dinner will have to consist of a glass of water and a few kind words.

John Hogan and Joe Monroe of Covington and John B. Henderson of Newport, arrested a few days ago at Huntington, W. Va., confess to the murder recently of Harry Ellis of Marietta, the young man found dead in a coal car at Russell last month.

Mr. Jacob Cabbish of Forest avenue is reported improving this morning.

Mr. A. M. Johnson has this week sent forty men to Frankfort, for whom he had secured work at that place.

Mrs. Joseph Sowers arrived last night to be at the bedside of her niece, Mary Desmond, who is critically ill with typhoid fever.

The Kentucky intercollegiate oratorical contest will be held at Parks Hill Chautauqua on Wednesday, August 7th. Kentucky State College, Lexington, will be represented by John Howard Payne, Cold Spring; Central University, Danville, by E. L. Green, Springfield; Georgetown College, Georgetown, A. L. Crawley, Georgetown; Wesleyan College, Winchester, either by W. B. Campbell or Henry Scobee of Winchester, Kentucky University, Lexington, by Aden Bristol.

It Builds Force

What is medicine for? To cure you, if sick, you say. But one medicine will not cure every kind of sickness, because different medicines act on different parts of the body. One medicine goes to the liver, another to the spine, Wine of Cardui to the womanly organs. So that is why has proven so efficacious in most cases of womanly disease. Try it!

Mrs. Wm. Turner, of Bartonville, Ill., writes: "I suffered for years with female diseases, and doctored without relief. My back and head would hurt me, and I suffered agony with bearing-down pains. At last I took Wine of Cardui and now I am in good health." Sold everywhere, in $1.00 bottles.
